Efforts to Raise Taxes Counteracted By House Demos

BOISE, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Two Democrats countered efforts to raise taxes on cigarettes and beer today by introducing in the house of representatives a bill to repeal the oleomargarine tax. The repealer would cost more than one million dollars in general fund revenues during the next two years, it was estimated, and would throw Gov. Robert E. Smylie's proposed $8.1 million dollar budget out of balance. Reps. J. W. Monroe, D., Nez Perce, and Herman McDevitt, D., Bannock, introduced the measure.

"I don't like the governor's cuts and dogs with taxes on cigarettes and beer," Monroe said. "They just put more tax on the same people. I'm going to try to take some off."

Smylie has recommended the cigarette tax be increased by a penny package and the beer tax by $1.55 a barrel to help finance his proposed $4 million dollar building program for the next biennium. Revenue from the two tax increases would be dedicated to the building program.

An omnibus, tax-raising bill to carry out the building program was introduced yesterday in the house by the appropriations committee—touching off a partisan fire-up in both houses of the legislature.

The present tax on oleo is 10 cents a pound.

Monroe said it is paid by people who can least afford to pay it. "It was put on to protect butter and the dairy industry," he said, "but it doesn't do it. I'm going to push for its repeal on its principles. It's a regressive tax."

Air Age Meet Sets Banquet Here Tonight

A banquet at 7:30 p. m. today at the Turf club featuring two guest speakers will be the highlight of the Aerospace Educational conference here.

Banquet speakers are Nan Glennon, Space Technology Laboratories, Los Angeles, Calif., who will discuss "Our concern with space," and Dr. Calvin H. Reed, professor of education at the University of Nevada, who will speak on "Educating youth for an aerospace age."

Miss Glennon also spoke at a special assembly at Twin Falls high school Friday afternoon.

Scale models of several missiles, missile site and the Titan program will be on display at the banquet. The displays are from Mountain Home air force base and Hill air force base.

The conference is sponsored by the Twin Falls public school system in conjunction with the Magic Valley squadron of the Air Force association and the Idaho wing of the civil air patrol.

Reservations may be made for the banquet by phoning Mrs. Phyllis at Redwood 3-6511.

Easements of Sewage Lines Being Signed

Signing of easements for right of way on sewage lines the proposed sewage-treatment plant is expected to be nearly completed by the end of next week, according to H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager.

Approximately 75 per cent of the easements have been signed and most of the remaining 25 per cent are expected to be signed during the coming week, Derrick noted.

He reported that Paul Newton, city engineer, plans to look at the proposed sewage plant access road after Saturday, hoping to develop a solution to the road problem.

Plans call for the road to go into the Snake river canyon near the Twin Falls Rod and Gun club, north of the city. However, club members declare the road, which would be behind the club's shooting area, would increase the hazard so greatly as to endanger existence of the club.

The easements ask a 15-foot strip through the property on which to cut and maintain a sewer line. The easement also includes a "guaranteed that land" in which the sewer line is placed will be returned to its original condition and no damage, if any, will be paid, Newton explained.

NEWS BULLETINS

LONDON, Jan. 20 (UPI)—The United States' European allies today hailed President John F. Kennedy's inaugural address as "a blueprint for peace in progress and freedom." First reaction in West European capitals voiced hopes for "vigorous U. S. leadership" of the free world.

CINCINNATI, O. Jan. 20 (UPI)—The 6th U.S. circuit court of appeals today refused to prevent from Feb. 20 a hearing on a temporary injunction which prevents 40 Haywood county, Tenn., landowners from terminating contracts with sharecroppers. The landowners, in asking a quicker action on Jan. 16, said the injunction is paralyzing farm arrangements" for the 1962 cotton crop.

Capital Covered By 8-Inch Snow; Storm Hits East

By United Press International

A blustery eastern snowstorm blew northward into New England today while Washington, D. C., dug out of an eight-inch snow for the presidential inauguration and New York fought traffic-stalling drifts. The storm, riding on 30-mile-an-hour winds, lashed into New York with 12 inches of drifting snow that closed schools and airports, and ports and slowed morning rush hour traffic to a crawl. School buses were commanded for transport emergencies.

As the storm swept along the Atlantic seaboard it dumped 18 inches of snow at Harrisburg, Pa., 10 at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., nine inches at Nantucket, Mass., and six inches at Boston.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to the storm, including six in Pennsylvania, two in New York, one in New Jersey and one in Washington.

The blinding snow closed Boston's Logan airport, stranding a number of inaugural-bound dignitaries, including singer Kate Smith who hoped to make Washington by tonight to sing "God Bless America."

The weather-bureau warned that gale winds would cause high tides and possible flooding along the New England coast.

Sub-freezing temperatures bore into the area on the heels of the storm, coating streets with ice and their powder snow. Caribou, Me., reported a low temperature of 20 below zero.

In New York side streets were clogged with cars as officials lifted traffic parking regulations and issued plens for workers to use subways and buses when possible.

Despite the plens, gigantic traffic snarls developed as commuters,

Bomber Crash In Utah Kills Five Crewmen

MONTICELLO, Utah, Jan. 20 (UPI)—A B52 intercontinental jet bomber exploded six miles above the southern Utah badlands last night, apparently killing five crewmen.

Two officers survived a long parachute drop of 38,000 feet, an ordeal they described as "colder than hell." Then they hiked to a highway and hitched a ride into town. Neither was badly injured.

There was no nuclear bomb on the plane, the air force said.

The state highway patrol said four bodies had been recovered from the shoulder, widely scattered wreckage but a fifth crewmember remained unaccounted for.

Trials Halted As "Gesture" To President

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro has suspended mass military trials of "terrorists" in an apparent good will gesture to incoming President John F. Kennedy.

The decision was disclosed today to United Press International after two more "terrorists" were executed before firing squads this morning. 10 others were sentenced to 30 years each in prison and three to nine years.

It was reported authoritatively that Castro himself ordered the trial suspension, presumably to coincide with a "pacification plan" he was expected to outline at a rally tonight as an overture to Kennedy.

The decision also was believed intended to counteract popular reaction against almost-daily executions since the latest set of military trials began last Saturday at the dreary Cabana fortress prison.

First indications that the government intended to bridle the tribunals came last night when a revolution appeal court, in an unprecedented move reversed three death sentences imposed earlier at two separate trials.

Carlos Manuel Matos Garcia and Juan Carlos Alvarez Aballi were shot at 2:15 a. m. EST, but their executions were not immediately made public here.

They were the first to be executed under the Jan. 4 repression law establishing the death sentence for anyone possessing explosives or helping counter-revolutionary terrorism.

Kidnaper Given Term in Prison

BOISE, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Admitted kidnaper Edward Hampton Elme today was sentenced to not more than 25 years in the Idaho state penitentiary for the abduction of a 22-year-old Boise housewife two weeks ago.

The 26-year-old ex-convict appeared before Third District Judge Merlin S. Young this morning to face a stop sign violation.

State Patrolman William Van Dyke issued the citation.

Critically means the possibility of a further chain reaction.

The AEC said it established the cause of the explosion by analysis of gold and copper objects found in the vicinity. They were radioactive, showing that neutrons—the sign of a chain reaction—had been loosed from the reactor.

Expert Prepares Report on Water

Keith Anderson, Boise consulting engineer and water expert, is in Twin Falls compiling material for a water study report, H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager.

Anderson, who arrived in Twin Falls late Wednesday, spent Thursday and Friday visiting various possible sources of Twin Falls domestic water supply to see how the sources "look on the ground," Derrick noted.

Anderson also is compiling known data on the sources for the report, which is expected to be completed the latter part of March.

Pledges Fight

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Jan. 20 (UPI)—The premier of the rebel Algerian government said today his people will keep fighting the French until they get guarantees satisfactory to them of a free referendum to determine their future.

There was only one real subject of conversation—Mrs. Renata Iverson Geiger and $2,125,000.00 which she embezzled from the bank where her father was president.

On the face of it, these were Chamber of Commerce platitudes. In reality, they expressed the determination of sturdy Dutch, German and Irish Iowa to win out against shame and disaster.

Reds Release Officials

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Former Vice President Milovan Djilas was released on parole today from the prison—where he had served nearly five years for criticizing communist policies. An eye witness said the 47-year-old patriot appeared to be in good health.

Iowa Town Shakes Fears of Embezzlement, Faces Future

SHELDON, Ia., Jan. 20 (UPI)—The town of Sheldon where the most respected business lady in town is accused of embezzeling two million dollars, shook off its fears today and faced the future.

The town's business leaders said they were not scared and Sheldon was not broke.

John Kennedy Becomes 35th President, Seeking New "Quest for Peace"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (UPI)—John F. Kennedy took

Spud Growers Eye Industry Bill Changes

RUPERT, Jan. 20—Several hundred potato growers from all over Magic Valley attended a general meeting of the Magic Valley Potato Bargaining Association Tuesday night at the Minidoka county high school to discuss state legislation.

Oral Tish, state manager for the Idaho bargaining group outlined the legislative program sponsored by all of the major farm organizations in the state, and lead a discussion on the various points of the bill being introduced in the house of representatives this week.

He listed as most important the proposed change in the present advertising commission, which is now entirely governor-appointed in which two men for each position are chosen by the growers of the state, with the governor then picking one of the two for each position on the commission. The growers would have five men on the commission, the shippers, two, and the processors, two.

For the second point, Tish explained that the legislation is planned to change the state law to require potatoes shipped into the state to meet the requirements of U.S. No. 2 grade. This is designed to stop the import of cutts and diseased potatoes into the state. The present law allows such ungraded potatoes to be brought into the state, packaged, and shipped out under Idaho labels.

Melvin West, member of the association who has recently conducted a survey covering more than 400 growers, reported that 75 percent in favor of these two changes was virtually unanimous.

L. A. Gillette, vice president of the Idaho Bargaining group, noted, "The advertising tax money is three-fourths paid-by-the-grower, but he has no voice whatsoever in how it is spent. This is taxation without representation and at the time that this large sum of money ceased being used for political expediency."

All members and interested persons who favored the proposed changes were urged to contact their legislators immediately with their opinions.

Logging Work Is Noted for Camas

RICHFIELD, Jan. 20—An average of eight loads of logs are being hauled daily over highway 68 from

Be-Nett mountain in Elmore county to the Wendell Mill in Fairfield.

The logs were cut last summer and this is the first time in recent years that logs have been hauled to the mill this time of year.

If snow conditions permit, they plan on hauling the rest of the winter.

Highway 68 is officially closed

Dixie, William Jackson of the McBride Logging company, Emmett, says that the road is only open for the logging operations as far as the Luckwood gulch road and is not open to the public.

"There are a lot of superficial differences," he said. "You eat better and you wear better clothes,

but the big difference is that I now have a wholesome self-respect.

"I founded for a long time had found what they wanted to do and were now.

"And now I am. Well, anyway content. I am doing something.

ordinary man's plight in this extraordinary time. He jokes about

His only prop in his "concert" appearances is a high stool, a pack of cigarettes and a lighter.

In one show he lights about five cigarettes, really smokes only two —but feels completely dependent on them.

"Without those cigarettes, I might as well not come out," he said. "The cigarette is my escape chance to think, to listen, to pre-

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Although a low-tariff advocate except where certain New England products are involved—textiles, fish, brass, toys, etc.—President Kennedy may have to reverse or modify the reciprocal trade policy sponsored by Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the black depression days of 25 years ago.

The steady drainage of gold, the weakening of the dollar in foreign markets and the three-year $1 billion dollar deficit in foreign trade balances have forced the first full reexamination of this problem and policy. It is slowly sapping this nation's economic life blood, according to a growing number of critical groups. Numerous interests which once approved the effort to broaden international trade in the early 30's—essential industries, southern governors, adversely affected unions and political blocs on capitol hill—now oppose it because of its harmful impact on their regions, their industries and their constituents.

RECIPROCAL TRADE—A ONE-WAY STREET—They also charge that reciprocal trade has been operated in favor of foreign countries and without commensurate concessions to American products on their part.

Typical was his gracious, generous and dignified behavior as senate presiding officer when he had the somewhat delicate task of formally declaring the presidential victory of John F. Kennedy—and his own defeat.

His brief speech on that occasion was so thoroughly in the best traditions of the democratic spirit that it won applause from Speaker Sam Rayburn, who rarely applauds anything in congress.

Nixon also has been following a planned policy of leaving the spotlight to Kennedy in these days when he is getting his administration under way. He reasons sensibly that there will be time enough for Republican leaders to speak out, when they have had opportunity to weigh Kennedy's performance in the White House.

It is interesting to set Nixon's recent behavior against some of the forecasts that were made. Remembering that he had known nothing but victory, some observers predicted that in defeat he would "fall apart." They saw him as a "hollow man" who would turn bitter and vindictive.

He has confounded these appraisers. A few might say he has been helped by the fact he lost so narrowly, but that conceivably could have added to bitterness.

Nixon's only real pique has been reserved for some members of the press, whom he accuses of bias against him and in favor of Kennedy in the coverage of the campaign. The charge deserves full examination by journalistic scholars and other dispassionate onlookers.

Even this has been expressed indirectly through his aides.

Thus Richard M. Nixon is about to make an exit that is a credit to him and to his party. Technically, he heads for private life in California, but everyone knows it will be more public than private.

Beaten but not crushed, carrying himself well, he will be the major spokesman for his party for some time to come. If things break properly for him, he could easily be his party's presidential standard bearer again in 1964.

"TOO NICE A GUY"

Even prominent members of the National Federation of Republican Women backed Vice President Nixon at their recent meeting in Washington, although there was a peculiar twist to their endorsement. They blamed him for "changing his image" to combat Democratic criticism of the old Nixon, and for not running as an out-and-out conservative.

Rep. Walter Judd, a Nixon adviser on foreign affairs, made this charge in an address to the women's annex of the national committee. Mrs. J. B. Parks of Pueblo, Colo., sister of Sen. Gordon Allott, agreed with Representative Judd.

Mrs. Cecil Kenyon, president of the federation in Nixon's home state, is the wife of one of the seven California businessmen who picked Nixon, then an unknown navy officer, to run for the house in 1946. Here is her comment:

"They (the Democrats) tried through the years to pin an image on him—the old Nixon. They did it deliberately, to get the Republicans to change the image. Finally, they succeeded, and his advisers got him to change."

"But the old Nixon always won! This time he was a gentleman. He wasn't in there, fighting with his teeth. And look what happened."

She was able to speak so frankly, she explained, because she was quitting as head of the California branch. She added that her sentiments are shared generally by California Republicans, men and women.

What the gals mean, apparently, is that, as Durocher says, "Nice guys come in last!"

But the significance of their reaction is that Governor Rockefeller is a "nicer" guy than Nixon, politically speaking.

HE AGES WELL

There are indications that the trend of the past few years to retire persons merely because they reach the age of 65 is declining. The American Medical Association reports that numerous firms are taking another look at their retirement policies, for advances in medicine have made the man of 65 today much healthier and valuable to his employer than his counterpart 10 years ago.

A firm has come up with a device for use in our modern, antiseptic supermarkets which wafts bottled food scents through the air for the delectation—and stimulation—of customers. SABOTAGE

At this writing, it isn't quite possible to tell, but the inauguration of John F. Kennedy may go down in history as something or other because of the blizzard that hit a day ahead of the big event. Naturally, the event may be curtailed, delayed or even canceled.

Some time ago, the wire service distributed stories speculating about the probable weather for the inauguration. At the time, it was explained that the weather had been generally favorable on inauguration day.

And it's quite obvious that the Republicans are still in charge of the weather bureau!

TEACHERS' PAY AND QUALITY

An intrepid member of the Wichita, Kans., board of education isn't going to vote for a raise in pay for teachers in the city's public schools this year.

For 11 years now as a member of the board, Paul Woods, who is president of the First National bank, has never voted against a raise in teachers' pay, but this time, he says, "I'm agin' it."

His reasons are quite interesting.

It isn't that he's opposed to paying better teachers' salaries that are more nearly what they're worth. He's all for that. Also he would like to increase the pay of beginning teachers. Further, he thinks credit should be given to an experienced teacher coming in to the Wichita system for all her teaching experience and be paid a commensurate salary, which she isn't.

His quarrel is with the salary schedule which has been set up in conformity with what an apparent majority of the teachers seems to think it ought to be, and which is remarkably similar to a labor union's wage scale.

As indicated by this salary schedule, Mr. Woods says, "Teachers want rigid pay schedule, giving the same consideration to everyone, whether good, bad or indifferent.... They are afraid of merit raises." And he declares, "I am against granting further raises to all teachers, dragging along everyone, in order to give raises to the outstanding people."

In Wichita, as in every Idaho school district, so far as we know, there are just two ways a classroom teacher can increase his salary. He can earn more for his years of service, and he can earn more for his accumulation of academic degrees.

Natural talent and individual dedication to the high calling of teaching—or the lack of it—have nothing to do with the case.

This Kansas banker-school board member's reaction is one that demands, and that will surely receive, attention on a broadening range in consequence of increasing concern about the quality of education and growing recognition that the outlay of more money for plant and facilities is not the answer, but that the quality teacher is the indispensable key to quality education.—Boise Statesman

HELP-FOR-THE-DOOR

The ailing U. S. dollar is receiving some noted sympathy from European banking sources. The Bank of England has reduced its interest rate from 6½ to 5 per cent. In October the British bank had cut its rate from 6 per cent. West Germany last month sliced its rate from 6 to 4 per cent.

These reductions are designed to exert a downward push on all borrowing rates. In the United States, the comparable figure, the Federal Reserve discount rate, is currently 3 per cent.

The aim is to narrow the gap between interest rates on either side of the Atlantic. Higher investment yields in Britain and the Continent naturally attract risk capital more easily. This factor has contributed substantially to the outflow of gold from this country. The actions of the British and West Germany banks will not by themselves restore the dollar to good health, but they should at least provide a healthy psychological boost and curb the dangerous speculation on the free gold market.—Atlanta Journal and Constitution

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

A woman student writes me that she has been assigned a task to analyze Mrs. Richard Nixon's role in the 1960 campaign. She wants my opinion.

I am writing in reply that the role of the wife is to replenish the Earth, mind her own business and keep out of the public eye. This is not to be in this age but it will be nevertheless. A president should be entirely a man and not a personality of two compartments, the one masculine, the other distaff.

Some time ago, the wire service distributed stories speculating about the probable weather for the inauguration. At the time, it was explained that the weather had been generally favorable on inauguration day.

With great personal respect for Mrs. Nixon, whom I know, I believe he made a mistake in subjecting her to the shocking personal abuse she suffered on their South American tour and to other physical and spiritual trials during the years when he definitely shared his job with a mother who should have been home with her two little girls.

This is politics. More's the pity now that women in politics are so assertive and pestiferous not as citizens but in a sexy way as women.

In Moscow the press put down first and we were able to watch the Nixons come down the stairs from their ship and advance to a place where they got a bleak reception from some Russian officials.

Mrs. Nixon looked ghastly.

It had been a hard trip and she had been traveling on other errands with her husband before they took off on this one. Her makeup, modest and conventional, looked like the paint on the dead-face of a doll because she was almost exhausted.

I noted the way she arranged her feet, as models are taught to do for the ads—the right foot turned almost straight to the right and the left foot pointing ahead. This does something graceful for the calves and guards against postures which in photographs seem awkward. A fine thing for a woman to have to be careful of half-the-world away from home after a sleepless night and facing a hell of ordeals to follow in Moscow, Siberia and Poland.

It curled my hair.

Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Truman and Mrs. Eisenhower were well cast and well behaved. They were ladies, gracious, modest, never assertive or flippancy. I cannot imagine any of them ever lending herself to cheap and vulgar notoriety for the aggrandizement of a male with fluttering hands who drapes fabric on females, slaps two fingers against his cheek, rolls his son, not a prop.

One of the questions in the assignment given my correspondent was this:

"If the campaign were hers to do over again, what should Mrs. Nixon do differently?"

If you are asking me, she ought to shut up and stay home.

A wife should be a private person.

It curled my hair.

Mrs. Nixon is a vain little girl.

Snow Shrinks Audience, but Show Goes on

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Despite a slashing snowstorm that shriveled the audience to less than half of the crowds expected, the big star-studded inauguration eve gala went on last night.

It was an hour and 40 minutes before getting started, but President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy were in their balcony box seats. So were Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Kennedys and the Johnsons, traveling in separate limousines, were escorted by police through unbelievable traffic snarls to the national guard armory in the eastern end of the city.

Directed by radio dispatchers, the police led the way along a route that avoided streets which were completely blocked by storm-stalled automobiles. The four-mile drive from Constitution hall, where the Kennedys stopped for the first part of a concert, took about 20 minutes.

The armory was less than half-filled, but people continued to stream in after the extravaganza began. Many others apparently abandoned the effort to get through the icy streets, some clogged with cars left there by their owners.

Just before Kennedy entered his box, conductor Leonard Bernstein led the 70-piece band in John Philip Sousa's march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

The entire cast and members of three college glee clubs then paraded into the auditorium singing "Walking Down to Washington."

The lights went up. The band broke into a spirited rendition of the U.S. Navy's song, "Anchors Aweigh." And at that moment Kennedy and his wife came down the steps toward their chairs. The audience rose applauding.

Kennedy and his wife beamed. For the gala, Hollywood and Vine, Broadway and 42nd street and Pennsylvania avenue combined to produce a song-and-dance revue.

Notwithstanding the empty seats, waiting for ticket holders who were unable to make it through the storm, it was a colossal, magnificent show, laced with generous dashes of pure corn.

2 Winners Noted By Burley Group

BURLEY, Jan. 20—Henry Petersen, O. W. Daniels and O. W. Johnson were appointed a committee to obtain estimates of the cost of building an ante-room on the Grange hall when the Murtaugh Grange met this week.

The annual mother and daughter banquet will be held Feb. 25. The first Grange-sponsored Red Cross first aid class will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. E. K. Buel will be instructor.

Mrs. Elmer Graff was installed as lecturer to succeed Mrs. Ted Wren who is moving from the community.

The Feb. 5 Grange meeting will open with a potluck supper at 7 p.m. at which time a silver collection will be taken for the March of Dimes.

The program consisted of a talk and the showing of slides by Harold Menser who serves on the Methodist board for hospitals and homes.

Menser spoke on retirement homes for the aged. Mrs. Wren gave the closing thought.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Horn and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Assendrup.

Rupert Notes Agreement of Garage Space

RUPERT, Jan. 20.—The Rupert city council passed an ordinance providing for an exchange of property between the city and the Idaho department of highways at the Tuesday night meeting.

The ordinance is intended to give more garage room for city vehicles at the present location of the highway department on a street, with the state department moving to a new location near the site of the present sewage outfall in the south part of town.

The measure provides that the state highway department pay the city $1 per year, and agree to the property exchange. A hearing is slated for 8 p.m. Feb. 7 at the city office.

Members of the park committee met with the council to protest cutting trees in one of the city's parks, and to discuss plans for the development of park areas. Plans will be drawn by the committee and presented at the next regular council meeting.

Committee members present were Clarence Birler, Lowell Horne and Grant Cattrell. Other members are Mrs. L. L. Culberson and Mrs. Earl Goode.

Damon Wright requested that property located on 15th street be taken into the city. The council took the request under consideration.

Salary increases were approved by the council for all city employees with the exception of the police department.

Burley Cubs Take Trip to State Capitol

BURLEY, Jan. 20.—Seven tired but happy Cub Scouts of den six, pack 20, returned home late Tuesday after a "flying visit" to the Idaho legislature, Boise. They were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Gummerson, den mother.

Mrs. Gummerson stated the boys had earned money doing odd jobs for the past year so they could take the trip. The round trip plane fare was $13.42 and they needed extra for lunch and spending money, she added.

Varl Chatburn, state representative of Cassia county, met the boys and showed them around the capitol. They met Gov. Robert E. Smiley, who signed their autograph books and showed them Scout honors and trophies he has. They also met the lieutenant governor.

While the boys visited the house of representatives, a bill on freight rates and one approving a dam on Kootenai river for flood control were passed, Mrs. Gummerson stated.

The Senate did not pass any laws while the boys were there. When they left the house, legislators were working on the law concerning 16-year-old drivers, she added.

They visited the art museum and the park. One of the big thrills for the boys was boarding the Jet plane at Twin Falls. Boise was fogged in when they were scheduled to return home so the group had to take the bus to Twin Falls, which was somewhat of a let down, the den mother stated. However, they again boarded the plane at Twin Falls and returned to Burley.

Her husband left early Tuesday morning by auto—and met the group at the airport when they arrived in Boise. The couple left their car with their daughter who is attending College of Idaho, Caldwell, and will be coming home at the end of the semester.

Boys who made the trip were Charles Gummerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gummerson; Bruce Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larsen; Danny Stephensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Stephensen; Charles Winterton, son of Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Wintersteen; Chris Wolf and Doug Wolf, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wolf, and Robert Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolf.

Mark Anderson, den chief, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Anderson, was unable to make the trip because of examinations for his God and Country award he will soon receive.

The pack is sponsored by the Burley First Methodist church.

"Fun Party" Set For Riding Club

Frontier Riding club members have scheduled a fun party and potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 25 in the Moose hall.

All members are urged to attend and bring a dish for the dinner and their own table service. After dinner slides will be shown of club rides during the summer. Dancing will follow with music provided by the Rhythmaires and the Music Hoppers.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rush are chairmen of the event assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Langton, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. William Burden and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley.

Rush says the program is being started early and will conclude early for the benefit of school students. He urged senior and junior members to attend.

Richfield News

RICHFIELD, Jan. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Vaden accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wilson, Mountain Home, to Salt Lake City again the past week returning Maury Dean Wilson there for medical treatment. The small child underwent surgery at Salt Lake City last month and his grandparents have assisted with his care since that time.

Cuba Flaunts New Decrees For Kennedy

HAVANA, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Fidel Castro's government greeted the incoming Kennedy administration with new flurry of anti-Americanism and a triumphant announcement that six "Yankee invaders" were captured sailing into Havana harbor.

The announcement yesterday said the latter came from an anti-Castro training camp in Florida and got lost on the way to join rebels in Pinar del Rio province. The adventurers were handed over Thursday to a military tribunal which can sentence them to death.

Three Americans caught with anti-Castro rebels were executed last year.

Recently the execution squads went back into action. Urbano Perez Diaz, a convicted terrorist, was shot in Camaguey Thursday, raising the unofficial execution total to 585 since Castro gained power two years ago.

The decrees, ranging from mildly harassing to possible serious in effect, were approved in a pre-dawn cabinet session.

Four thousand Cuban civilians who work at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo bay were ordered to obtain special work permits which require a declaration of income.

This will permit sharper control of the dollars earned by the workers, who can convert their wages into pesos at higher black market rates and thus keep the dollars from the government's dwindling foreign exchange reserves.

The decree also allows the government to weed out Cuban workers who are known American sympathizers by refusing them work permits. One effect would be to force Cubans whose support for Castro is only lukewarm to seek living space within the base as many did during the height of Castro's revolution against ousted President Fulgencio Batista.

Another decree ordered removal of the American eagle—it's too "imperialistic"—from atop Havana's seafront memorial to the men who died in the sinking of the battleship Maine in 1898.

Also to be taken down are busts of former presidents Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley and Gen. Leonard Wood. They will be replaced by busts of Abraham Lincoln and other "democratic Americans."

Democrats, at a party caucus

Wednesday, approved the plan advanced by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas as a move to take control of the rules committee away from a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

The change would boost the committee's membership from eight Democrats and four Republicans to 10 Democrats and five Republicans. Its effect, if all members voted according to form, would be to give control of legislation to eight liberal Democrats.

Under the present 12-member unit, four Republicans and two Southern Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and Rep. William M. Colmer of Mississippi, have held the balance of power.

How much influence the policy committee action will have on the 174 house Republicans won't be known until the house actually votes. The Republicans will discuss the proposal at a party conference before the final vote.

A tentative date of April has been set for a bond election of approximately $700,000 for the plant, notes Mayor J. Leonard Salmon.

This is an open meeting and interested persons are welcome to attend, Salmon says. The Chamber of Commerce is sending a representative to the meeting.

Californian has more farms and ranches than any other state in the union, with 140,000.

Women Save Two Children From Flames

SPokane, Jan. 20 (UPI) — Two heroic women, who firemen said "went in with courage," that's all, "smashed their way into a northwalled Spokane house yesterday to rescue two children after their mother apparently fell out a second story window while trying to fashion a bedsheet rope.

Debbie Hanson, 3, and her brother, Douglas Hanson, 4, were reported in good condition with burns over 30 per cent of their bodies. Their mother, Mrs. Darlene Presta was in satisfactory condition, suffering burns over 20 per cent of her body and leg cuts from the fall.

Fire Capt. James Bell said Mrs. Erna L. Alwardt, who lives next door, told him she saw smoke coming from the apartment. She used a brick to smash a window and open the locked downstairs door then used it again to hammer open the locked door to the Presta apartment.

Mrs. Edgar Higbee, who was driving by at the time, saw smoke and joined Mrs. Alwardt in the rescue after calling the fire department.

"We went upstairs," Mrs. Higbee said, "and it was just a mass of flames. The two youngsters were cowering behind a bed."

"The little boy was badly burned and almost out. The little girl was crying and saying, 'There's a fire. I'm burnt. There's a fire.'

Mrs. Higbee picked up the boy and Mrs. Alwardt the girl and carried them next door.

Bell said Mrs. Presta, clad in nightclothes, was found dazed on the ground below the second story window.

Battalion Chief Howard Rice said the two women went into the house like trained firemen.

"To me, it's remarkable the job they did without professional training. They just went in there on courage, that's all."

cause of the fire was still being investigated, although it was believed the blaze started near a space heater.

Last Pay Check Received by Ike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (UPI) — A couple of men with Irish names visited the White House yesterday on special missions: John Fitzgerald Kennedy to prepare for a new job and Timothy O'Sullivan to deliver President Eisenhower's last pay checks.

Eisenhower collected salary and expenses for 10½ days in January. Before deductions, the final payments totaled $8,125.

The presidential salary is $100,000 a year plus $50,000 for expenses. Both are subject to income taxes and are payable in 12-monthly installments.

Ever since January, 1957, O'Sullivan has been the courier who carries Eisenhower's checks to the White House. He walks to the presidential offices from the treasury annex, a block away.

The checks are not delivered directly.

World Affairs Featured in Library Display

Florence Schulz, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the American Association of University Women, and Dr. V. E. Wilson, county director of the "Great Decisions, 1961" program, examine the new display, "World Affairs and You," which is at the Twin Falls public library. Purpose of the display, according to Arthur L. DeVolder, city librarian, is to enrich education through books and bring world affairs into focus. (Staff photo-engraving)

Purpose of Library Display Is Focus on World's Affairs

Enriching through books and bringing into focus world affairs is the chief purpose of the new display at the Twin Falls public library's adult reading room, entitled "World affairs and you," according to Arthur L. DeVolder, city librarian.

For persons interested in pursuing world affairs through study groups, the nation-wide citizen review of critical issues in foreign policy facing the American government and people entitled "Great Decisions, 1961," again will be presented in Twin Falls county under the direction of Dr. V. E. Wilson in cooperation with the Borah Foundation of the University of Idaho.

All organizations in the county interested in participating are urged to call Dr. Wilson at RED-wood 3-1479 about details of the program.

The discussion for 1961 will include such topics as "Deadlock over Germany," "Soviet Challenge and World Leadership," "France and Western Unity," "Japan — Future of an Asian Ally," "South Africa and an Explosive Continent," "The Americas in Jeopardy," "Arms and Survival" and "Blueprints for the World Economy."

Better understanding is needed about foreign policy and its effect on domestic production, welfare and unemployment, DeVolder stated. With this in mind many books, magazines and related materials are featured in the world affairs display at the library. DeVolder added that there are several hundred books dealing with all aspects of the situation.

"Everyone is invited to see the display, choose their books for reading, and show interest in the world and its effect upon America with all of its ramifications in industry, transportation, raw materials, farms, surpluses and excesses of expenditure abroad," DeVolder said.

He commented that most books may be checked out for a 28-day period and magazines and pamphlets for a seven-day period.

Background for the display was designed by Mrs. DeVolder with figures adapted from a magazine cover produced by the "Wilson Bulletin." Information for the display on the programming of the "Great Decisions, 1961," was supplied by Dr. Wilson, Florence Schulz, the Foreign Policy association and the Oceana Publishers, Inc., New York City.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The sitter has become an essential member of the modern family. Most people have accepted the fact that a mother of young children, indeed any mother, must have time out for a chance to live, to rest from the constant care and labor that her husband and family depend on. Otherwise she will certainly suffer in health and efficiency. Therefore the sitter.

This helpful person must be selected with the greatest care. Is she a responsible person who takes this duty seriously? Will she keep her engagement, will she faithfully fulfill her obligations? Is she in good physical and mental health and above all, does she like children? Can she furnish acceptable references from three trustworthy people?

If this sounds like a lot of both, it is just that, but the sitter should not be asked to do housework. Her duty is to the children only and does not extend to washing the dishes left in the sink after the family dinner unless that task has been accepted in her agreement.

The parents should get home at the time set. If anything delays them they should telephone the sitter. This chance of delayed homecoming is what makes me prefer mature women for this work. The reasons are obvious. Select the sitter with care, give her regular employment and consider her comfort and life will be the richer for her and her employer.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

DONALD DUCK

By WALT DISNEY

Nation's Big Banks Grow Still Larger

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (UPI)—The big keep getting bigger in the banking field. They have to grow as the economy grows and, particularly, as their biggest customers, the giant corporations, grow with increasing needs for funds.

But also banks in financial centers have had to grow to keep up with the "jones in" their own banking business. The postwar years have seen sharp changes in customer demands, in competition with other lending and saving institutions, in the size of loans, in trust activity.

Merged Boost Growth

Much of the banking growth has been through internal efforts but much of it in the last seven years has been due to a wave of mergers aimed at making large banks bigger and in spreading their activities into fields new to some of them.

The latest proposal is a merger of two big New York banks, the Manufacturers Trust and the Hanover bank. If the plan goes through, the resulting giant would be the third largest in New York City and the fourth biggest in the nation.

Western Bank Biggest

California's Bank of America with 12 billion dollars in resources is the nation's largest. In 1946 its assets were 5.4 billion dollars.

Manufacturers trust, now New York's fifth largest, has 4.4 billion dollars, against 2.2 billion dollars in 1946. The Hanover bank, the city's eighth largest, has 2.1 billion dollars, against 1.5 billion dollars in 1946.

They report combined assets, if they merge, would be more than 6 billion dollars.

They have specific reasons for merging: Hanover has a large and profitable trust department and a number of big corporate customers that Manufacturers would welcome. Manufacturers with 110 branches against Hanover's nine is strong in the fast growing business of serving small depositors and borrowers.

U. S. Securities Used

Hanover is one of the few New York banks still in the business of primarily serving big customers. In the last few years there has been a change in this business.

The biggest corporations, although their money needs have grown with the nation's postwar boom, have turned in recent years away from keeping any idle funds on deposit in banks. Instead they put them into government securities where the yield has been better.

Banks catering primarily to corporations have suffered—but at the same time banks expanding dealings with individual savers and borrowers have flourished. This makes a natural climate for mergers.

Judge Refuses to End Fraud Case

BOISE, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Judge Fred M. Taylor refused in U. S. district court yesterday to dismiss fraud charges filed in connection with the sale of securities in southern Idaho.

He set trial date for Jan. 22. Named in the complaint originally were Edward L. Gibbons and Robert D. Sparrow, both Preston; James J. McGraw, Denver, and Edward L. MacClain, who at the time was serving a federal prison term for a similar charge in Minnesota.

MacClain since has been released and is scheduled to appear in court here later this week.

McGraw died following filing of the indictment, which accused the four men of misrepresenting value of securities they sold.

Hoover Returns To Miami; Plane Can't Be Landed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (UPI)—A blinding snowstorm with 23-mile-an-hour winds yesterday prevented former President Herbert Hoover from landing here for Senator John F. Kennedy's inauguration.

The 89-year-old ex-president decided to return to Miami after his aircraft had circled for more than an hour well above the snowstorm-sweeping the District-of-Columbia area.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., R-Mass., long-time friend of Hoover observed only, "He is a sensible man."

The pilot, Air Force Maj. Ben Hansen, notified Martin by radio that Hoover had decided not to return to Washington for Friday ceremonies.

The snowstorm which turned Hoover back also forced Lieut. Gen. James M. Gavin, who retired in a dispute with the present administration over missile policies, to divert to the Baltimore airport.

Storage of Grain Is Reported Low

PORLTND, Jan. 20 (UPI)—Pacific Northwest grain storage facilities could handle as much as 10 million bushels of grain from the rest of the country and still have room for local grain, a prominent grain dealer said yesterday.

Jack Finch, Spokane, president of the Pacific Northwest Grain Dealers Association, told the association's board of directors that occupancy of Northwest storage capacity has been low, and dealers do not like to see their facilities standing idle.

He said the latest estimates show 200 million bushels of new storage capacity will be needed in the country in 1961.
